ORIX Forms Alliance with Tokyo Star Bank for Asset Based Lending (ABL) Using Commercial Vehicles as Collateral

TOKYO, Japan – January 30, 2012 – ORIX Corporation (hereinafter, “ORIX”) and ORIX Auto Corporation (hereinafter, “ORIX Auto”) announced today the conclusion of a business trust agreement with The Tokyo Star Bank, Limited (hereinafter, “Tokyo Star Bank”) to undertake asset based lending (hereinafter, “ABL”) using commercial vehicles as collateral. Commercial vehicle loans will be offered through Tokyo Star Bank beginning January 30.

ABL is expected to become more prevalent as a potential funding option in coming years as an alternative to conventional methods using real estate such as land as collateral. ABL offers diverse fund procurement solutions for both corporate clients and sole proprietors, and will allow for lenders to enhance their capacity to respond to customers financing needs.

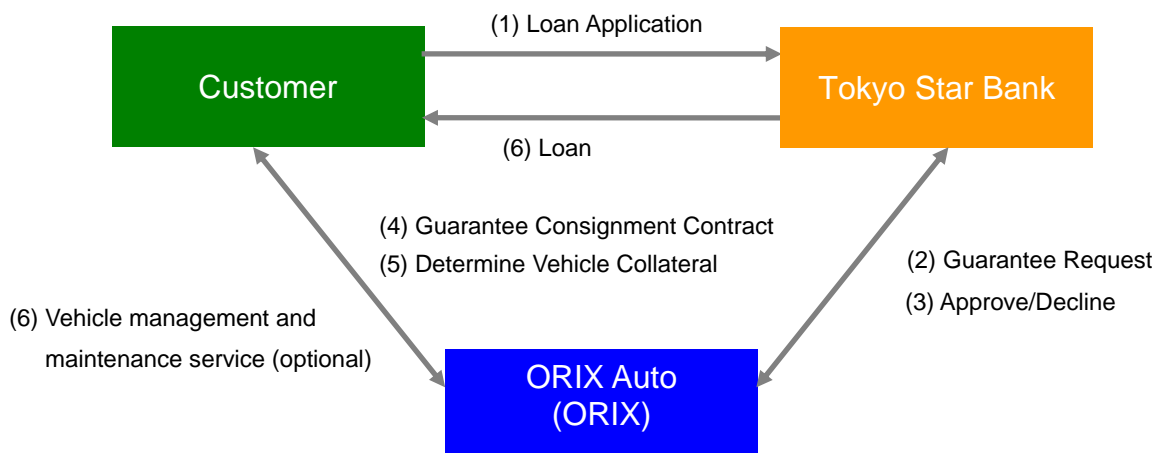

With a commercial vehicle loan, Tokyo Star Bank offers corporate clients and sole proprietors lending for the purchase of new vehicles or operating capital for a business using currently-owned vehicles as collateral. In the process, ORIX Auto determines the value of commercial vehicles such as trucks and buses by appraising the vehicles and provides a guarantee.

ORIX has partnerships with 159 financial institutions to provide guarantees for unsecured loans and ABL, and is expanding financial services that capitalize on its credit and collateral valuation know how. ORIX Auto has sophisticated vehicle expertise, with approx. 910,000 vehicles currently under management and a track record of selling approx. 90,000 secondhand leased and rental vehicles annually.

Tokyo Star Bank responds to a wide range of SME client needs across Japan and provides business support best suited to the client’s business plan with expert staff providing high value-added products and services.

Tokyo Star Bank and ORIX formed capital and business alliance in June 2010 and are working to expand business leveraging each others’ product development and network capabilities. Going forward, Tokyo Star Bank and ORIX Group will continue to provide financial services that respond to a variety of customer needs.
